provides the following information.

1. Regulatory framework

Proposition 65, officially known as the California Safe Drinking Water and Toxic Enforcement Act of 1986, is a law of the State of California approved by ballot in 1986. Its purpose is to ensure that people are informed about exposure to substances known to the State of California to cause cancer, birth defects or other reproductive harm.

The Proposition 65 list contains a wide range of both naturally occurring and synthetic chemicals. These may be additives or ingredients in pesticides, common household products, food, drugs, dyes or solvents; they may also be used in manufacturing and construction, or be by-products of chemical processes such as motor vehicle exhaust.

2. Information on the products supplied

The products supplied contain or may contain nickel (Ni) in the quantities set out in the table below:

Product type	Nickel (Ni) content
Carbon steel or low-carbon steel parts	< 0.1 % of total weight
Stainless steel parts	8 - 11 % of total weight
Zinc-nickel surface coatings	11 - 16 % of the weight of the surface coating deposit

Apart from nickel in the quantities indicated above, no other substance included in the Proposition 65 list is intentionally used in the products supplied.
